“Play-by-Play Guy”

PRESIDENT’S REMARKS.

We welcomed Steve Carroll play-by-play radio announcer from Anaheim Ducks. We learned about his career, the hockey league, and inside scoop on the Anaheim Duck roster and upcoming season. Let’s Go Ducks (unless you like another team of course)!

We learned Jeff Garcia will be leaving our club due to a recent promotion to regional store manager position with Ben Bridge in San Diego. Ben Bridge Santa Ana will identify replacement to be part of our club going forward. Best Wishes, Jeff! We’ll miss you and promise to come visit.

Program: The Puck Stops Here

Steve Carroll has been the play-by-play radio announcer for the Anaheim Ducks for 18 years. His career progression started as a DJ and then turned to his love of sports where he started out covering minor league baseball games.

He shifted gears and provided some updates about hockey league. As we all know, the hockey league shutdown for many months which impacted individuals, not just player. Specifically, radio announcers like Steve are independent contractors and get paid by the number of games they cover.

The Anaheim Ducks will kick off the new season with 7 pre-season games starting Sep 16 with Phoenix, San Jose and Los Angeles. Then, they will take the road. Steve mentioned how critical "getting of to a great start" is in hockey and who critical it will be for Anaheim this year as they have 15 day east coast and Canada road trip. There's also Olympics this year so there will be a 20-day break in play Feb 8 – Feb 28 .

The 2013 Anaheim Ducks line-up looks promising and lead by Coach Bruce Boudreau. His strategy has been to "use players" and not afraid to change the lines. Bruce is known as an "honest" coach and well respected by the organization in players.

HIGHLIGHTED ARE SOME ONES TO WATCH THIS YEAR:
